

Download Becoming A Legal Mediator

How to Become a Family Mediator The OAFM has been accrediting Ontario's family mediators since 1998. Accreditation is an important qualification that distinguishes mediators who are suitably trained, qualified and insured from those who may not be. If you want to obtain work with one of Ontario's court-connected family mediation programs you generally must be... Arbitrators, mediators, and conciliators learn their skills through a combination of education, training, and work experience. Education. Education is one part of becoming an arbitrator, mediator, or conciliator. Mediation is a dynamic, structured, interactive process where a neutral third party assists disputing parties in resolving conflict through the use of specialized communication and negotiation techniques. All participants in mediation are encouraged to actively participate in the process. Mediation is a "party-centered" process in that it is focused primarily upon the needs, rights, and ... Hon. Stephen E. Haberfeld (Ret.), widely respected as a charismatic, accomplished, and effective mediator and arbitrator, brings a wealth of talent and three decades of dispute resolution experience to JAMS. Judge Haberfeld is frequently selected to resolve the most complex and contentious disputes. ADR Experience and Qualifications