Stapleford Miniature Railway is an historic steam locomotive-hauled 10 1/4 in (260 mm) gauge railway at Stapleford Park, Stapleford near Melton Mowbray in Leicestershire, England.. Considered one of the finest examples of its type, [citation needed] the railway is now private but still attracts thousands of visitors from the UK and abroad during its two public charity events each year. Bibliography. I have gathered the information on this website from many sources over the years. A few facts and figures were drawn from the following books. The primary source of information about books on railway history is George Ottley's monumental bibliography, with its two supplements (no serious public library can claim to be that if Ottley is not available). Jack Simmons' overall evaluative surveys of the literature (both in his own books and in the Oxford Companion – Ottley is mainly non-evaluative) are also useful, but Simmons was less ...RMI Railworks manufactures miniature railroad equipment used for the live steam hobby as well as commercial trains used in shopping malls and parks. RMI builds live steam, gas and electric locomotives, Thomas The Tank Engine, railcars, tracks and complete railroads.
