My daily driver - Nissan Pulsar N15 1998. LOVES a good thrasing and comes alive at 5000rpm. Cheap on fuel and big on fun - perfect everyday runabout car.98 Nissan Vzr Pulsar — Took a while to get used to the staggered power delivery with maximum power not being delivered until around 7000rpm however most impressed with the pull at those revs. Not a particularly large car, bit of a tight squeeze with 4 adults (not much leg room in the back seat) yet surprisingly a big boot.some more recent pics... I just got the signage on the Pulsar last week - really happy with how it came out in the end. I did the design myself on the PC and emailed off a few signage places in Adelaide to get the best price etc. Ended up only costing $260 for the back, sides, front and windows - great value I reckon.Collection of free car service manuals.
